AGENDA

The California Efficiency + Demand Management Council's Spring Symposium

LEARN BY DOING: Energy Efficiency and Demand Management in a Distributed Energy Future

April 26, 2018 – David Brower Center, Berkeley, CA

cedmc.org/spring-symposium/

Join the California Efficiency + Demand Management Council and guest speakers for a one-day professional education symposium focused on the big changes happening in the energy efficiency, demand response and integrated distributed energy resource arenas. California is in the process of “learning by doing” and this symposium is an excellent opportunity to catch-up with the newest in this rapidly changing field.

Agenda:

- 8:30 am      Registration
- 9:00 am      Welcome
Margie Gardner, Executive Director, California Efficiency + Demand Management Council (The Council)
- 9:10 am      Efficiency Always: new and enduring roles for EE in evolving energy markets
Hear from ACEEE about their latest work and findings on efficiency's value as a foundational energy resource, its new roles in distributed resource planning, and its increasingly-recognized value to public health and affordable housing.
Maggie Molina, Senior Director of Policy, ACEEE
- 9:40 am      Big Things Ahead for Residential DR
There is so much happening in the residential demand response space in California! We have an exciting line-up of folks working in this space to catch up on the latest, including new winter gas demand response programs.
Moderator: Melanie Gillette, Senior Policy Director, The Council
Brad Davids, Head of Demand Response Partnerships, Nest Labs
Tyler Rogers, Director of Utility Sales, EnergyHub
